

Do the Teamsters make promises they can't keep?

Yes. Unfortunately, making promises they can't keep is a typical tactic used by unions to get you to support them and sign an authorization card.

So, while you may hear a Teamster organizer make claims, like:

...the truth is they have no power to guarantee any of those things.

In fact, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has called campaign tactics mere “pre-election propaganda.”

Listen carefully to the sales pitch from Teamsters organizers and ask yourself, would you sign up for this offer?

Don't sacrifice your right to a direct relationship with your manager for the Teamsters' empty promises. If the union isn't being honest about the promises they make, what else aren't they telling you?

Let's keep working together.
