

Are The Teamsters Right for You?

The Teamsters say "you are the union," but their actions speak louder than words. Nurses have shared that union organizers are:

Ignoring your questions

Blocking or removing nurses from union social media groups who post comments union organizers don't like

Calling you at home to solicit your support

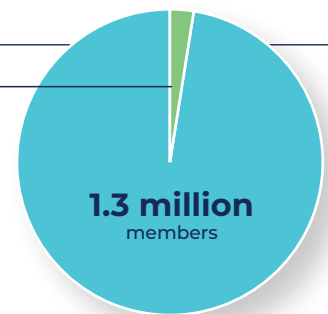

Pressuring or bullying nurses who choose not to sign authorization cards

Consider this:

The Teamsters traditionally represent transportation and manufacturing industries – not nurses and health care workers.

Less than 3% of their members are health care workers and even fewer members are actually registered nurses.

35,000
Health care
members

1.3 million
members

The Teamsters don't have the knowledge and experience to represent professional registered nurses on matters most important to them.

You have the right to tell the union and your fellow nurses that you don't want the Teamsters at Corewell Health.

You have the right to remain union-free.
